

DocuLynx was recently ranked #689 on Inc. Magazine's list of America's 5,000 fastest growing private companies. In addition, the company recently acquired the docHarbor Online and Document Management divisions of Anacomp. Carlton Stewart, Xplor Mid Atlantic Region member, discussed the acquisition with company president and CEO Terry Wieczorek and passes along what he learned.

Q: First of all, congratulations on the Inc. 5000 ranking! There has been lots of positive news surrounding DocuLynx recently it seems. I understand you recently acquired the docHarbor Online and Document Management divisions of Anacomp. Tell us the reasoning behind this decision.

A: Thank you and yes, it is a very exciting time for DocuLynx! We acquired the docHarbor Online and Document Management divisions of Anacomp on September 1, 2010. The acquisition of these two divisions will help significantly increase our already robust document archive and retrieval capabilities. Broadening our scope of capabilities supports our goal as a company to continue to lead the way in this ever-evolving document management market.

Q: How do Anacomp's services compliment those already provided by DocuLynx?

A: Anacomp's established computer output microfiche (COM) capabilities; CD services; document scanning; report printing; analog to digital conversion; docHarbor online Web presentment solution; and proven business processes are an excellent compliment to DocuLynx's extensive portfolio of industry-leading digital Mercury software solutions. This combination provides a unique opportunity for business environments with deployed microfiche-based document management systems as well as those with digital systems requirements. Additionally, the acquisition expands DocuLynx's service provider customer base to include several verticals where Anacomp has an entrenched presence, including banking and finance, manufacturing, insurance, healthcare, telecom, government and utilities.

Q: What additional benefits does this acquisition provide for customers?

A: The acquisition of these business units from Anacomp furthers our ability to provide leading edge technology, data security, regulatory compliance, and a broad base of services to clients not available previously. In addition, we will be able to offer enterprises a full spectrum of capabilities, as well as expand our offerings further to include document and microfilm scanning, data analytics, and enhanced security capabilities on the Web.

Q: Where can I learn more about this acquisition and the divisions involved?

A: Graph Expo will be taking place October 3 - October 6, at McCormick Place South in Chicago, IL, and DocuLynx will be exhibiting at Booth #4547.
