- Consulted on VIP protection for the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens—reviewed each Olympic venue, Piraeus harbor and Zea Marina, as well as numerous private locations used by VIP guests throughout the Games. Supervised a 150-person protection security team.
- Directed a 500-person VIP Protection Group for the 1999 Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Conference—providing detailed planning of emergency response and counter-terrorism teams and the overall responsibility for the safety and security of 21 world leaders and 84 internationally protected attendees throughout the Conference.
- Directed risk management and security for major events, including:
 - 2003 Super Bowl
 - 2002 Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting
 - 2002 Americas Cup
 - 2004 Rio de Janeiro Carnival
- Provided protection for the President of the United States, the Prime Minister of Japan, Chancellor of Germany, Prince of Brunei, Crown Prince of Thailand, UK Royal Family, four Prime Ministers of New Zealand, the co-founder of Microsoft, founder and CEO of Discovery Communications, and other VIPs.
- Evaluated as:

“...faultless performance...all the leaders spoke with admiration and respect of the security arrangements...I would like to thank you and your team for your professionalism and the friendly way in which you carried out your roles...”

(written comments by J. Shipley, Prime Minister of New Zealand)

“...your attention to detail...helped to ensure a successful event...I deeply appreciate your efforts...” (written comments by Bill Clinton, President of the United States)

“...the ability to operate in a foreign environment and conduct effective liaison with foreign government officials, including police and military, assured the overall success of a difficult and politically sensitive international protection operation...”

(written comments by H. Cameron, Chief Security Office, UN Mission to East Timor)
